2021/2022 ROB AVERY ATPL COURSES IN SYDNEY

Following on from the very successful 2018, 2019, 2020 lecture series, Sydney Flight College have scheduled in-class delivery of ATPL lectures for the four most challenging ATPL subjects during 2021 and 2022 at their state-of-the-art Bankstown Airport Campus. Rob's in-class courses are usually sold out very early on, so best move on this now - Do not delay!

Course #1/2021

- Aerodynamics and Systems: Monday 20th Sept to Friday 1st October 2021. B737 simulator sessions are offered as an option (recommended for understanding of EFIS/FMS) for CASA exam and as basis for employment sim ride. (4 days on/1 off routine). 10 days in-class in total + B737 sim option.

Course #1/2022

- Navigation: 14th March to 19th March 2022 (6 days straight in-class).
- Aerodynamics and Systems: 4th April to 19th April 2022. B737 simulator sessions are offered as an option (recommended for understanding of EFIS/FMS) for CASA exam and as basis for employment sim ride.
- Performance & Loading: 2nd May to 6th May 2022 (5 days straight in-class).
- Flight Planning: Monday 16th May to 29th May 2022 (4 days on/1 off routine). 12 days in-class in total.

For those in the Sydney area, this will provide the following benefits...

- Cost savings as no flights or accommodation cost incurred.
- The benefit of having Rob's 28+ year ATPL teaching experience/online training notes working for you.
- Individual subjects available.
- Access to the online course that back's up the in-class delivery sessions.
- Access to courses that deliver very high student exam first-sit pass rates/marks.
- Personal and direct access to Rob's knowledge and wisdom, plus online help by Rob during, and post course.
- Small class sizes - Personal attention, and not having to cope with dozens of others in your class.
- All CASA-focused practice exams are included in the price, as is GST.
- CASA exams scheduled between subjects.
- ASL exam centre nearby. Plenty of nearby low cost B&B accommodation, and a lunch bar close by.
- If desired, optional access to any of the other three subjects by distance learning via the Internet.
